"He had small skill o' horse flesh who bought a goose to ride on." Don't take for house-cleaning ordinary soaps. THE PROPER THING is SAPOLIO. Try a cake of it, and be convinced. Common Soap fails to accomplish satisfactory results in scouring and cleaning, and necessitates a great outlay of time and labor, which more than balances any saving in cost. Practical people will find SAPOLIO the best and cheapest soap for house-cleaning and scouring.

THE IRISH TRIALS.

The Conspiracy Cases at Tipperary to Be Heard Collectively.

Opposition in Lisbon to the Anglo-Portuguese Convention.

Baron San Pedro a Fear of Personal Violence—The Earl of Aberdeen's Tour of Observation in Canada—Annexation and Federation—Place George Sells From Quebec—How His Visit Was Received by the People of the Dominion—French and German Socialists—Soldiers Drowned in Russia—Bishop Farand's Death—Foreign News.

DUBLIN, Sept. 27.—There is no abatement of interest in the trial of the conspiracy cases against the Nationalist leaders now in progress at Tipperary. The proceedings yesterday created a very general impression that the Government was deliberately trying to prolong the trial as far as possible. The adjournment took place yesterday afternoon before Mr. Ronan, the Crown prosecutor, had finished his opening speech. At the opening of the morning the speech was concluded. It was the desire of the Crown prosecutor that the cases should be tried separately, and the Magistrate was inclined at first to consider that the proper course. To this the defendants unflinchingly objected, desiring the Court to hear all the cases at once. The Magistrate at last yielded to the persistence of the defendants and decided in favor of the collective hearing. Mr. Ronan was evidently disappointed at this decision, and was reluctant to accept it. Gold was quoted at Buenos Ayres yesterday at 147 premium. Mr. Rochefort yesterday sent a challenge to a duel to M. Dupin, director of the Petit Parisien. He declared that he bowed to the decision of the Magistrate because he must, and said he would refrain from expressing any opinion of his fairness. The Nationalists were considerably elated at scoring this point. The sensational feature of the morning was a renewed attack by the defendants on Magistrate Ronan. It will be remembered that on Thursday both John Dillon and Wm. O'Brien protested against Mr. Shannon sitting in the case, and gave reasons why they thought he might be biased in his judgments when they were concerned. The preliminary matters were disposed of and the time had come for the taking of testimony to begin. It was found that two of the defendants were not in court. A short recess was thereupon taken to give time for the absentees to be summoned.

The Royal Guest Has Departed. QUEBEC, Sept. 27.—Prince George and Admiral Watson have sailed from Quebec, and except in the very limited social circles, few were allowed to bask in the smiles of royalty and their departure has caused little regret. Despite the servility and toadyism of certain local newspapers it is a fact that the Prince and his brother officers rendered themselves extremely unpopular by their discourteous conduct towards those with whom they came in contact. On one occasion the Admiral and his officers accepted an invitation to dine with Judge Irvine of the Admiralty Court, and subsequently to attend a dance at Mr. Pacaud's, the friend and confidential adviser of Premier Mercur. Judge Irvine's dinner was ready and the ladies and other guests had arrived, but the guests from the ships came not, though the party waited an hour for them. Mr. Pacaud was similarly treated. The next morning the Judge and Mr. Pacaud received letters explaining that on account of the roughness of the water the expected guests had been unable to reach the shore, yet their ships were anchored only 600 yards from the shore and were well supplied with steam launches as well as with ordinary boats. The river is never rough enough here to interfere with pilots boarding steamships from small rowboats. Mayor Fremont and others, who paid official calls on board the frigates, were received with marked discourtesy, and society is still discussing the fact that at the ball in honor of the Prince by the Mayor and citizens of Quebec, the proposal of the Ball Committee, that the Prince should dance the opening quadrille with the Lady Mayor and the acting hostess, were set aside, and the royal dancer took Lady St. Lawrence for a partner instead. The French Canadian newspapers are loudly expressing discontent because, following the example of the Prince of Wales, when in Canada thirty years ago, Prince George danced with very few French Canadian ladies, although the great majority of those present at the ball were of that nationality. Quebec ladies are jealous because at the ball in Quebec nearly all the ladies with whom he danced were residents of Montreal.

The Earl of Aberdeen in Canada.

OTTAWA, Ontario, Sept. 27.—The Earl and Countess of Aberdeen arrived here yesterday, and on Monday they start on their journey to the Pacific coast. One of the main objects of their visit to Canada appears to be to study the general feeling of the people towards the mother country. As ex-Viceroy of Ireland the Earl is giving opportunity to the feeling in Canada towards Ireland and the home rule movement. While he is most anxious that any expression of opinion might not be construed into political interference on his part he does not hesitate to say that he deprecates the arrest of Dillon and O'Brien as likely to irritate and intensify the bitter feeling which has been fanned by coercion and coercive measures. However, it would in the end help the cause of Ireland and home rule and create sympathizers where it found none before. The Earl was anxious to learn the drift of public opinion in Canada, whether in sympathy with Ireland or opposed to the home rule movement, and also as to the reception Dillon and O'Brien would be likely to receive if their contemplated visit to Canada was carried out. He thought that the feeling of hostility to remaining under the British flag which now turned the tide of emigration from Ireland to the United States in favor of Canada would be terminated if affairs at home were conciliated and a measure of home rule was secured for Ireland. This accomplished, he believed all the prejudice against living under the British flag would be removed.

As to what the feeling of the Canadian people was as regards Imperial Federation, he was especially anxious to study. Those at the headquarters of the movement in England had as yet matured no definite plan of campaign, beyond adopting the general principle of an Imperial Federation, without venturing upon details by which it could be made practicable and a settled fact. He failed to find any sentiment in favor of annexation so far in Canada and believed that the general feeling of the Canadian people was to maintain their connection with the mother country. He thought that for the temporary relief of Ireland from the distress that is likely to follow short crops, the Government might undertake the construction of light railways and public works which would put money in circulation and give work to many who are threatened with privations during the coming winter.

Hatred of England.

LISBON, Sept. 27.—The feeling in Portugal still runs very high against the Anglo-Portuguese convention. The Baron San Pedro, who negotiated the treaty in behalf of Portugal, is compelled to confine himself to his house for fear of popular violence. It is thought that at any other time the petition of the people of Goa for the annexation of that Portuguese possession in India to Great Britain would have had the desired result, but in the present excited state of the Portuguese mind against England it is not likely that the province, though it is worthless to Portugal, would be allowed to fall into the hands of the hated English without a bitter struggle.

Sailed by a Dominion Cruiser.

HALIFAX, Nova Scotia, Sept. 27.—The Dominion cruiser Crisis sailed for Gloucester yesterday. David Crockett at South Prince Edward Island, Thursday evening for a violation of the fishery law. Capt. McKenzie of the cruiser has placed a prize crew on board. United States Consul Gen. Fry of this city when notified of the seizure, telegraphed to the Consul at South to look after the case. In what way the Crisis violated the law is not known here at present.

Bishop Farand's Death.

WINNIPEG, Manitoba, Sept. 27.—Bishop Farand of Athabasca died yesterday at the Archbishop's palace at St. Boniface. He died from a general breaking up of the system, the result of forty years' arduous work among the Indians of the far Northwest. He came to St. Boniface direct from France in 1846 and was there ordained priest of the Oblate Order. After spending two years in the Red River Valley he left for the Athabasca and McKenzie river district, and there he spent the remainder of his life laboring among the Indians.

French and German Socialists.

BERLIN, Sept. 27.—The German Social Democrats have replied to the manifesto issued by the French Labor party congratulating them upon the convening of their congress at Halle by congratulating their French brethren upon the assembling of the congress at Lille. The reply says: "The German Labor party rejoice that their comrades in all countries hold aloft the sacred flag of the International Brotherhood of humanity and yearn for the peace of nations."

Did Not Shot At.

EL PASO, Tex., Sept. 27.—The story started yesterday to the effect that President Diaz had been shot at in the City of Mexico has been proven untrue. There was no shooting on the 15th as reported, but on the 14th the President celebrated his birthday and all passed off without any unpleasant interruption. The report has been denied by the Mexican authorities.

To Explore the River Juba.

LONDON, Sept. 27.—An Italian transport ship, armed with a torpedo ram and gun boats with 300 men, will leave Italy shortly for East Africa to explore the Juba River, which runs through Abyssinian territory claimed by Italy. The river is believed to be an important and navigable one, but very little is known of its remoter course.

Attacked the Burgomaster.

BUDA PEST, Sept. 27.—A number of officers, annoyed at the Burgomaster for ordering a band in a cafe at Erlau to play the "Rokoczy March," attacked the Burgomaster with swords and dangerously wounded him. The officers were excited and a special meeting of the Council has been held to discuss the matter.

Four Hundred Soldiers Drowned.

VIENNA, Sept. 27.—Several Polish journals assert that during the maneuvers of the Russian troops at Rovno, the bridge over the River Wislopa, Krasnosielow, collapsed and the Polish Regiment was thrown into the water. Four hundred soldiers were drowned, including Gen. Bardowski.

Nauquet Will Not Resign.

PARIS, Sept. 27.—A meeting of Socialists held here last evening called upon M. Nauquet to resign his seat in the Chamber of Deputies.

Foreign News in Brief.

It is proposed to employ political and other convicts in the building of railways through Russia. The commission on the main Siberian Railway has completed its labors.

A movement is on foot in England for the revival of the stocks, to punish persons guilty of outrageous crimes, and especially "scuttling," or running amok in the streets. Emperor William has caused a reduction of tariffs on government railways for the benefit of mine owners, manufacturers and other large employers, in view of concessions in wages made by them to their workmen. It is announced that Secretary Balfour will visit Ireland on Oct. 10.

Cardinal Lavigera is on his way to Rome in response to a summons from the Pope, who is anxious to discuss the situation in regard to the slave trade in East Africa. Russia has ordered from the Obukoff Steel Works 300,000 rifles of a new pattern.

Tipoo Tib, the great Central African slave and ivory potentate, is on a pilgrimage to Mecca.

CARONDELET NEWS.

Mrs. George Lay and Her Son Have a Narrow Escape—Notes.

While Mrs. George Lay was driving along Tesson street this morning her horse became unmanageable and ran away. In turning the corner of Eighth and Tesson streets the rear wheels caught in a raised plank on the railroad track, throwing the horse and buggy down. The vehicle was overturned, and Mrs. Lay, who was with her escaped injury. Several members of the Fire Department, and Chemical Works who saw the accident ran to the lady's assistance and succeeded in getting her and the little fellow out of the perilous position. They were then conveyed to their home a few blocks away.

The new Methodist Episcopal Church will be dedicated to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock by Rev. Dr. C. H. Mendenhall, pastor of the Union Methodist Episcopal Church. The church is a pretty little building and is richly furnished. The police arrested quite a number of coal dealers yesterday afternoon for not using the regular city coal dealers' tickets. The dealers are supposed to issue a green ticket for coal amounting to twenty-five bushels or under and a red ticket for more than twenty-five bushels. The dealers have been in the habit of using a ticket for their own use, and the police are determined to stop this. The cases were to be tried in the Police Court this morning, but a continuance was granted to look into the matter more thoroughly.

Barber Held.

Wm. Williams is a farmer who hails from Ohio. He looks green, but he isn't. This morning he was at the Union Depot. He had been traveling for several days, and thought he had better "lick up" a little. Accordingly he went to the barber shop at 1106 Poplar street. The proprietor of the place, William Bean, but the barber in the chair, shaved his head, shampooed his head, cut his hair and dyed his mustache. When released Williams thanked the barber and was given a silver quarter as his charge. The barber graver expressed his regret that he could not give him a better shave. Williams, who took Bean's word, as a last resort he called in Officer Daily, who took Williams to the Police Court and laid the case before Capt. Young. As soon as he saw that a prosecution might follow Bean decided to compromise with Williams, paying the farmer $2.75. The prisoner was then released.

Shoplifters Arrested.

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 27.—Two women were arrested yesterday in Shillito & Co.'s dry goods store for shoplifting. Their theft had been witnessed by two detectives who were watching them, and the stolen goods were found in their capacious pockets. They gave the names of Mrs. Emma Webster, Nashville, Tenn., and Miss Marie Casey, Xenia, O. The older woman, who is about 40, and the younger one, a trunk check in their possession entered the store, and the older one, who is a native of Xenia, Ohio, displayed a great assortment of stolen goods and some letters, which were taken from her. She had been obtained in St. Louis.

Assault on a Street Car Driver.

About 6 o'clock yesterday evening two negroes boarded a Jefferson avenue car at Montgomery avenue. They refused to put their fare in the box and the driver, Nicholas Keating, went back to collect from them. Neither of the negroes would pay and Keating ordered them to get off. As soon as the men were on the ground they began to throw rocks at the driver. One of the missiles struck Keating on the head, inflicting a severe scalp wound. The driver of the Fourth District came up about this time and placed the negroes under arrest. The driver of the car, who is a native of Birmingham, Ala., and Miss Marica Carpenter, also of Birmingham, Ala. Some of the stolen goods appear to have been obtained in St. Louis.

Caught in the Act.

As Sergt. Cummins and Officer Bledy were passing along Eleventh street about 4:45 o'clock this morning they saw two men endeavoring to force an iron grating from an entry leading to the cellar under the saloon of Janet Caffery at the corner of Eleventh and Chestnut streets. Both of the burglars were caught and locked up at the Four Courts, where they gave names as Fred Jackson and Dennis Ryan. Warrants were sworn out charging the prisoners with attempted burglary in the second degree.

Thieves Disturbed.

About 6 o'clock this morning Private Watchman Davis and four men in the alley on the west side of Eleventh street between Fine and Olive. At the officer's approach the men took to their heels, leaving behind a bundle containing a quantity of lead pipe. The property is supposed to have been stolen, and is awaiting an owner at the Central District Police Station. The men escaped.

Fat Cox Run Over.

A telegram was received at the Four Courts this morning by Chief Harrigan to the effect that a man named Fat Cox had been run over by the cars at Tipton last night and instantly killed. The message was from the City Marshal at Tipton, and requested that the St. Louis police locate Cox's two brothers, who are supposed to live in Frenchtown, and inform them of the accident.

Embezzler Arrested.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Anthony Gould of Albany, who is under indictment for aiding and abetting George H. Wainwright, a clerk in the Albany City National Bank, in embezzling the funds of that institution, was arrested today at 145 Madison avenue, where he has been stopping with his wife, as the Albany authorities were under the impression Gould was about to leave for Europe. It is probable Gould will be taken back to Albany.

WANT HIM BADLY.

Eighth District Republicans Insist on Running Niedringhaus.

Revenue Collector Wenneker May Get the Nomination if He Cares to Have It.

C. H. Sampson Says He Cannot Think of Entering the Race or Accepting the Nomination on Account of His Business Engagements—Anti-Bulter Democrats in the Nineteenth Ward Making a Determined Fight for a Fair Primary Election—Republican Convention Arranged for by the City Committee—A Lively Time Expected at the Labor Convention Tonight.

Some of the Eighth District Republican leaders declare today that they will nominate Niedringhaus despite his declination, and they appeal to him to make the race in behalf of the party welfare. Niedringhaus, they believe can be induced to accept the nomination if it is given to him with acclamation, and Henry C. Meyer and other leaders say they will give it to him and then try to convince him that he ought to make a personal and business sacrifice by accepting it. Congressman Niedringhaus has written a letter to Chairman C. E. Bauer of the Congressional Committee fully setting forth his reasons for not desiring to make another race at present. These have been presented in the POST-DISPATCH.

WENNEKER'S POSSIBILITY. If the programme of the leaders who wish to force him to run is not successful they will, it is believed by many give the nomination to Internal Revenue Collector Wenneker. He was mentioned for the nomination two years ago but withdrew when it became settled that Niedringhaus would consent to accept it. He is a very close political friend of the Eighth District Congressman and can, it is believed, obtain his support if he cares to take the nomination. "Old Regularly" Fuller and his followers who claimed to control the Eighth District Republican machine. Niedringhaus is such a warm friend of the Internal Revenue Collector that it is understood, come down handsomely when asked to contribute to the campaign fund.

SAMPSON WON'T HAVE IT. Mr. C. H. Sampson, who has been freely mentioned for the nomination, told the POST-DISPATCH representative to-day that he could not see how he could accept the nomination if it was tendered him. He said he felt grateful to his friends for their kindly mention of his name, but could not on account of his business consider himself a candidate.

There are other names mentioned, but the leaders say they are not in the race. The impression is growing that if Niedringhaus does not reconsider his declination he will control the nomination and give it to his friend Wenneker if he wants it.

A number of prominent business men, who are not in the race, have been endeavoring to induce him to withdraw his name to go before the Republican Congressional convention in the Eighth District next Tuesday. They argued that he could be elected, but he persisted in his refusal to enter the race. He said he might decide to run for the Council next spring, but did not want to make a Congressional race.

Nineteenth Ward Democrats at War.

The war between the Butler and the anti-Bulter Democrats in the Nineteenth Ward has broken out afresh and a lively battle is anticipated. Central Committee Martin Duddy of that ward is a Butlerite and represents him in the Committee. At the meeting of that organization last evening, a committee, representing the Butlerites, was elected to represent the ward in the City Committee. The committee was composed of Martin Duddy, John J. Keating, and others. They argued that the Butlerites were not entirely disgraced by Duddy. The City Committee declined to interfere then and there, but promised to take the matter up at its next meeting, which will be held Tuesday evening.

Harry Snyder said to-day that the Democrats in the middle and western parts of the ward were disgusted with the tactics of the Butler politicians, and that unless the arrangements for the election were changed they would decline to participate in it or vote the ticket nominated in the City Convention. "They are not going to let places in localities where they can run things to suit themselves, and have put in judges who will see that they carry everything they want. Now if they think the Democrats in the ward will submit to such an outrage they had better take care. The ward extends out to Ewing avenue, and there ought to be a polling place nearer the center than Twenty-third and Market streets. We have several hundred Democrats behind us in our fight for fair play, and we are determined to go fishing on election day unless we get it. The Central Committee must take care and elect such a boss as it cannot afford to lose many Democratic votes, and the ticket will certainly suffer if the Butlerites are allowed to run things to suit themselves."

To-Night's Labor Convention.

To-night the various factions of the Union Labor party will have it out in Central Farmer Hall. The convention called by the Black faction takes place there this evening and the other factions are expected to take a hand in running it. The Democratic and Republican politicians are watching it closely and will have representatives there to look after their interests. One of the factions is led by W. H. Blake, who wants to put Polman on the ticket for sheriff, and another wants a fight for Patrick M. Street. The delegates elected by the labor unions will it is understood make a determined fight to elect the candidates of the Black faction in the party.

Democratic and Republican candidates were indorsements and it is claimed that some of the leaders have set a price on every place in demand. A very lively convention is looked for by all the factions.

After a Committee.

The Twenty-first Ward Democrats, who are opposed to Central Committee men, are preparing to make an emphatic demand on the Central Committee to change the arrangements for Wednesday's primary election as made by the member for the Black faction. They are holding a meeting at the Central Committee and looking for all the factions.

Absolutely Pure. Full Measure. No Cartoons to Hide Long-Necked and Panelled Bottles.

All Cooking Extracts, such as Lemon, Vanilla, Rose, Almond, Celery, etc., prepared at the laboratory of Joseph Burnett & Co., Boston, can be relied upon for their perfect purity and great strength. For upwards of thirty years they have been used by the leading hotels and the best families throughout the United States, and are sold by all first-class grocers and druggists.

where it is claimed he has the strongest following, among the workers. He has put one at Eighteenth and Chouteau avenue and the other at Seventeenth and Gratiot, just three blocks distant from the southern polling place. The Democrats living in the neighborhood of Jefferson and Lafayette avenues, say they should not be expected to go down to Eighteenth and Chouteau avenue to vote. There will be a request made to the Central Committee to change one of the polling places.

Democratic Clubs Combine.
At the meeting of the Young Men's Democratic Club last evening, at St. Boniface Hall, in Carondelet, three delegates to the City Democratic Convention were nominated. The delegates are Theo. Klinge, Pat Manion and Dan O'Leary. Secretary Klinge read a communication from President Richard Southern of the Sixteenth Ward Democratic Club asking the young men to co-operate with the club in the coming primary election. The letter was met with approval, hence the reason for electing the three delegates. This virtually leaves but two clubs in the field in the Thirteenth Ward.

The Jackson Club, which meets to-night at St. Boniface Hall, will put up a delegation to be voted for at the primary election next Wednesday. There is some fear, however, that the Jackson Club will not have representation at the polls. If this should be the case, the Young Men's Democratic Club will file a contest before the Credentials Committee in the convention. A lively time is looked for at the election.

Republican Convention Plans.
The Republican City Committee has arranged to hold the primary election next Thursday and the convention Friday at Central Turner Hall. The convention will be held Saturday evening and the senatorial Monday. The First District convention will be at Concordia Hall, Second at Central Turner Hall, Third at Turner Hall, North St. Louis Turner Hall, Fourth District, Concordia Hall, and the fifth at Concordia Hall. The senatorial convention for the Thirtieth District will be at Uhlir's Cave, Thirty-second District at Central Turner Hall and the Thirty-fourth District at Anchor Hall.

Colored Democrats.
A number of colored men met at 192 Morgan street last evening and organized a club, which they say will support the Democratic nominees exclusively. J. G. Horton was elected president and E. H. Taylor secretary. The experience of Democratic candidates with such organizations in the past has not been satisfactory, but this year the colored men in the Democratic ranks say they will remain firm in their support of the ticket.

Will Meet To-Night.
The Ninth District Democratic Congressional Committee will meet this evening at the Hendricks Association rooms to complete the arrangements for the primary election which will be held on Friday and the convention Saturday. The $1,200 for the expenses connected with the primary and convention will be paid by W. O. Cobb, as he is now the only candidate for the nomination.

In the Race to Stay.
The friends of Capt. Bernard Finney indignantly deny the report that he has withdrawn from the race for the office of local council. They insist that he is in to stay and that he will be nominated in the City Convention which meets next Thursday.

Political Notes.
The Seventeenth Ward Republican League Club will meet to-night at the Central Turner Hall and Franklin avenue.

The Sixth Ward Republican League Club will have a special meeting to-night at 8 o'clock at 5701 North Broadway.

The Eighteenth Ward O'Neill Democratic League will have an important business meeting Monday night at 8 o'clock at the Central Turner Hall.

The Democrats of Precinct 15 of the Twenty-eighth Ward will have a meeting this evening at 8 o'clock at the Central Turner Hall.

Mr. James F. Myles, the present constable of the Fourth and Eighth Wards, will have no opposition next Wednesday. During his present term he has proved himself to be an efficient officer, and is liked by all classes of voters in his district.

The young Democrats in the Twenty-fourth Ward have organized to make a bid for the Central Committee man Mike Sullivan at the primary election which will be held on Friday and the convention Saturday. They have planned to put a ticket in the field and make a determined effort to elect it.

The Young Men's Democratic Club of the Fourteenth Ward met last evening at 2201 Cass avenue and made arrangements to attend the Young Men's Democratic Convention on Monday night at the Central Turner Hall.

BIG COLONIZATION SCHEME.
An American Colony to Be Planted in Honduras.

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 27.—An enterprise involving the colonization and commercial development of a good-sized province has been maturing under the name of the American-Honduras Co., with headquarters at Chicago. It will plan colonies, build roads, dig harbors, erect light houses, lay marine cables and establish schools, all under its own supervision, without aid from any government. The field of its operation is a tract more than twice as large as Rhode Island, abounding in valuable woods and a great number of natural springs. The tract lies at the most northerly point of Honduras and was granted to an American citizen, E. C. Perry, by the Honduras Government, with the condition that the recipients should make internal improvements and admit no foreign colonies. The colonists were declared free from taxation and from duties on imports, and other privileges were bestowed. The undertaking appeared too great for one company, and a division was made, the western half of the tract being given up to a new company having headquarters in Chicago, known as the Tropical Fruit & General Trade Co. The grant has a coast line of eighty or one hundred miles, extending from the Gulf of Honduras to the boundary of Nicaragua. From south to north it measures about sixty miles. The coast line is broken and rugged, with numerous bays and rivers. The country contains an enormous quantity of valuable products. The transportation of fruit and other products to the United States will require about five days. Parties are being organized to leave about Jan. 1. Other parties of the same kind will be formed in other cities.

THE BIRCHALL TRIAL.

MEDICAL TESTIMONY SUBMITTED ON BEHALF OF THE DEFENSE.
The Prisoner Maintains His Cool Demeanor—His Young Wife's Sorrow—She Wins Friends Among All Classes in Woodstock—Where the Funds Come From to Conduct the Defense—Incidents of the Trial.

WOODSTOCK, Ontario, Sept. 27.—In the Birchall trial the case for the defense was continued this morning. By 9:30 o'clock all the seats were filled in the body of the courthouse. The gallery was filled with ladies, as were the seats on the platform, and a crowd of ticket holders were struggling with the constables for places on the benches. The prisoner was as unconstrained as ever as he walked up to the court and chatted with the lawyers and reporters. He examined with some interest photographs handed him by the reporters, which were taken by a Woodstock photographer from the gallery, showing scenes in connection with the trial. One of the constables showed the prisoner standing at the moment he pleaded "not guilty."

Dr. Meerns said he had heard the medical testimony given by the three doctors for the crown. He did not agree with Dr. Wetford in the statement that rigor mortis would set in so soon as stated. It would take, generally, he believed, from five to six hours in a healthy young man during cool weather, the thermometer not higher than 22 degs., who had not suffered exceptional fatigue. He thought rigor mortis would not set in sooner than from eight to ten hours. As to the testimony concerning the wound inflicted on the prisoner, he thought that a body falling after a pistol shot could not produce them. Such bruises must have been received from two to three days before death. He was positive of this. He had practiced medicine in the United States and he had seen many cases among men bruised by machinery. "Supposing there is a bruise not involving the true skin, does that make any difference?" asked Mr. Oiler.

"If there is no thickening of the tissues it would be impossible to tell," he answered. "Not necessarily. As to wounds after death some say they are manifest, but others deny this. The color is seen mainly at the margin of the wound, but that is not the case."

Mr. Oiler quoted Taylor, a high medical authority, that if the marks were blue or livid, it would be marginal color, it was probably struck just before death, and Dr. Meerns agreed to that up to eighteen hours before death. Mr. Oiler said that the blood escaping from the wound would indicate the time of death. "Not necessarily. As to wounds after death some say they are manifest, but others deny this. The color is seen mainly at the margin of the wound, but that is not the case."

Mr. Oiler asked several times if it was not by the marginal color of a bruise that he judged its age, but Dr. Meerns insisted that the color of the wound was uniform. If the color of the wound was uniform, it was not necessarily indicative of a wound produced after death. The color of the wound was uniform, it was not necessarily indicative of a wound produced after death. well built. It is said she has lost nearly thirty pounds in weight, and now weighs about a hundred pounds. She has been steadily declining in health ever since Benwell's body was found and her husband arrested. At one time it was believed in Woodstock that she had never been married to Birchall, but that story was set at rest when a copy of the marriage register in England was introduced in court evidence. Almost every evening she goes to the Woodstock Jail to see Birchall. He is a much better spirit than she is. She has a horror of reporters and avoids publicity because she is pointed out by a crowd of people. It is a mystery who is putting up the money for Birchall's defense. Mr. Stephenson, who is the solicitor for the defense, would not like to have a son-in-law hanged, he believed to have contributed largely to the cost of the defense. The Government detectives here have heard of Birchall's as a theatrical manager and the assertion has been made that his wife had been an actress. It was asked if that were true Birchall showed more indignation than when charged with the murder. It is not known if he was ever married. The prisoners "Birchall" and "another" are said to have cards printed both ways. He says that the reason he changed the name of the branch of his family in England was "Birchall" and the other "Birchall," and that he expected a legacy under his name. Birchall is a receipt of many letters from England by every mail, but none arrive for his husband. Mrs. West-Jones is regarded as the handsomest woman in Woodstock. She dresses in even a more pronounced manner than her sister and attempts in every way to divert her attention from the case. She is a very attractive woman and she reads the reports of the proceedings in court and talk it over with the prisoner. Mrs. Birchall is believed to be not very doubtful of the result.

THE JOHNSTOWN FLOOD.
The Names of the Beneficiaries of the Fund to Be Published.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 27.—There is just now a lively row between the Johnstown Relief Committee and the United States Treasury, which was formed just after the great flood of May 31, 1889. The local board's duties were to accumulate such data as would be useful in distributing the funds generously donated by the whole country to the victims of the flood. The relief committee and the Treasury have been at odds ever since.

THE BAND WILL COME.

PRESIDENT DIAZ DETAINS THE NINTH BATTALION MUSICIANS TO ST. LOUIS.

The Great Musical Aggregation Will Play at the St. Louis Fair—General Cabill Sends a Communication to District Attorney Reynolds—The Complaint of Local Musicians—No Further Discussion Expected.

CITY OF MEXICO, Sept. 27.—President Diaz has detailed the celebrated Ninth Battalion Band for the Exposition season at St. Louis, Mo. Zapadores' band will be sent by the President to San Antonio, Tex., to play at the International Exposition. Both bands will leave here on Sunday.

This morning Mr. Cabill, the Mexican Consul, received a dispatch from Mexican Secretary of State Hon. Ignacio Mariscal, stating that thirty-five members of the Eighth Cavalry Band, with their director and ninety picked men from the infantry bands, would leave the City of Mexico Sunday, Sept. 28, for St. Louis. They will arrive at Laredo and cross the line Wednesday, Oct. 1, arriving in St. Louis Friday. The band will be met at the depot by the directors of the Fair Association and Connel Cabill, with carriages, and will be escorted to their hotel.

In relation to the charges made by a few persons that the band had been contracted for and would be paid for its service by the Fair Association, and hence came under the law in relation to imported contract labor, Mr. Cabill has prepared a communication to be forwarded by District Attorney Reynolds to the Solicitor of the Treasury. Mr. Reynolds forwarded the communication sent to him by Mr. Owen Miller to the Treasury Department and gave Mr. Cabill an opportunity to give his side of the affair, which he has done in the following letter:

MR. CABILL'S COMMUNICATION.
CONSULADO DE LOS ESTADOS UNIDOS MEXICANOS.

ST. LOUIS, MO., E. U. A., Sept. 21, 1890.

Referring to the copy and the letter if received from your office this day and signed by Senator Owen Miller, to which I have attached an extract from a St. Louis publication of the 18th inst., relating to the coming of the Mexican band to St. Louis, I have the honor to state that, as far as the Mexican band is concerned, I have no objection to its coming to St. Louis, and I have no objection to its playing at the Exposition. I have no objection to its playing at the Exposition. I have no objection to its playing at the Exposition.

The Mexican band is not, and will not be, contracted for, and I beg to assure you that no money has been paid for its services. I have the honor to state that, as far as the Mexican band is concerned, I have no objection to its coming to St. Louis, and I have no objection to its playing at the Exposition. I have no objection to its playing at the Exposition. I have no objection to its playing at the Exposition.

JOHN F. CABILL,
Consul for the Republic of Mexico at St. Louis.

NO FURTHER DISCUSSION EXPECTED.
Mr. Cabill does not anticipate that there will be any further discussion over the question. It is very absurd," he said to a Post-Dispatch reporter this afternoon, "to think that, as much as the Mexican Government values the reputation of its army, it would ever said that she hired out her famous military band to another country for a consideration. It is a disgrace to the Mexican Government and to the Mexican people to have their band hired out to another country for a consideration. It is a disgrace to the Mexican Government and to the Mexican people to have their band hired out to another country for a consideration."

IN BEHALF OF SCIENCE.

Autopsy Upon the Body of Dr. De Wolfe, Who Died of Starvation.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Dr. W. S. Watson, assisted by Mrs. E. Osgood Mason and John S. Warren, spent three hours yesterday in the most careful autopsy upon the body of Dr. Stephen De Wolfe, who died Thursday of enforced starvation at his home in Thirty-fourth street. Dr. De Wolfe for months had carefully watched the progress of his disease, and as such he knew would come bringing him to the grave, and in his last hours he dedicated his body to the interests of science, and would not let it go to waste.

Dr. Watson had attended him during his illness, and the two had discussed the case with great interest. The autopsy showed that the heart was the seat of the disease, and the heart was the seat of the disease, and the heart was the seat of the disease.

AN EMPLOYMENT AGENCY CASE.

Alleged Fraud on the Part of a Man Who Was Hiring Laborers.

A warrant was sworn out at the Four Courts this morning charging G. A. Lewis with fraud. Lewis is the head of the employment agency of G. A. Lewis & Co. and has several times been in similar scrapes. The prosecuting witness in the present action is one W. S. Camp. Mr. Camp came to St. Louis from Denver, and after several weeks ago. Damages and Divorce Suits—Probate Matters and Court News.

Otto Hiler, by his next friend William Hiler, filed a $10,000 damage suit against Lawrence P. Harrigan and John J. Sheehan this morning, for personal injuries. The boy says he was crossing Seventh and Chestnut streets last month when the defendants drove up at a rapid gait in violation of the city ordinance and ran into him. His left eye was put out and his face was badly cut and bruised. He claims to be injured to the extent of $10,000.

The St. Louis Spanish Club, which recently took a suite of rooms in the Mermont-Jacard Building on Broadway and Locust streets, filed a petition in Court Room No. 10 this morning for a pro forma decree of incorporation. The object of the club is to establish headquarters for Spanish-speaking residents, to encourage the study of Spanish, to afford facilities for conversational practice and improvement generally to persons studying Spanish. It is also intended to have its members become acquainted with Mexico, South and Central America and promote trade with those countries. Any person of good moral character connected with a firm can join in paying $5 entrance fee and $12 a year time.

G. S. WEBER in a DILEMMA. Gilbert S. Weber filed a petition in the Circuit Clerk's office this morning asking the court to help him out of a dilemma. Clement Manning died on the 4th of this year and just before his death she gave her sister, Mollie Green, all her earthly possessions. She then in trust to Weber, and a few days later Charles Scudder, the public administrator, took charge of the estate. He estimated the property of Weber and sold Miss Green. Knowing whom to give to, Mr. Weber asks the court to declare the $240 in cash and $100 worth of jewelry involved.

DIVORCE SUITS. Margaret Baehner filed suit for divorce against August Baehner this morning and charged him with living in fornication and adultery in Kansas City. She says she was married in April, 1887, and on September 20, 1889, she was compelled to leave him and take her two children. He is working for Richards at Hancock, a wholesale hardware house in Kansas City, for $85 per month. She says she wants some of his wages, as he has failed to support her.

Mrs. Jennie Bates filed a suit for divorce against Isaac L. Bates this morning on the grounds of desertion and failure to support. They were married in May, 1880, and in October, 1889, he left her.

Probate Matters. Gerhart Henry Albers, in his will filed today, gives Frances Drobolska $1,000 and the balance of his estate to his wife.

Letters of administration were granted today to Fred Schoenig on the partnership estate of Uhrig & Schoenig, valued at $5,000, and to Harriet Moller on the estate of H. C. Albers, valued at $3,500.

An inventory of the estate of the late Francis T. Rasmussen, the retail grocer, who kept a store in Benton, was filed by Public Administrator Scudder. His estate is valued at $15,845, but $15,000 of this is in stock in the Eastman Gravel Works Co., which is supposed to be worthless.

HIT WITH A ROCK.

Street Car Driver Injured by Whom He Ejected.

After Keating, a driver on car No. 37 of the street car line, was stopped by one of the head with a rock, last night at 10 o'clock, by Griff Brander, a negro, who was told to pay his fare. Keating asked the driver to stop his fare. After the negro, Fred Hill, was released, Keating stepped out of the car he was riding in and picked up a large sized rock and threw it at the driver of the car. Keating was on the top of the head and staggered him. Brander then stepped out of the car and threatened to pay his fare, escaped and Keating was taken to his home, 2835 Grand street, by Fred Hill, who called on the police. He was pronounced not dangerous. However, Keating was taken to the police station and is suffering. Brander and Hackett were taken to the police station by car, and are locked up at the Fourth street station.

A Reprieve for the Condemned.

Wretched men and women long condemned to suffer eternal torments in the flames of hell, have now some hope after a few doses of Hostetter's Bitters. This budding hope blossoms into the fruition of certainty, if the Bitters are persisted in. It brings a reprieve to all dyspepsia, flatulence, heart-burn, indigestion, and it puts at the pit of the stomach between meal and nervous tremors and isœmia of which cholera is the progenitor. Most beneficial of stomachics, it gives the patient a new lease of life. It awakens grateful eloquence in those who, hitherto, speak voluntarily in its behalf. It requires a graphic pen to describe the torments of dyspepsia, but in many of the testimonials received by the proprietors of the Bitters there is corroborated with vivid truthfulness, the constant relief of the most distressing cases of indigestion and rheumatism are relieved by it.
